

I am totally opposed to relaxing the rules governing broadcast ownership. Locally owned stations must be protected to insure diversity of programing in individual communities which speak to and for the residents of those communities. Where is the integrity in a homogenized society?